WEDNESDAY, OCT. 9, 1907.

Perhaps they might get at it easier in Kentucky, by trying to figure who didn't kill Gov. Gobel

It sometimes looks as though Messrs Roosevelt and Bryan would be entered for the race. A splendid pair that and the world would be interested lookers on.

The Czar certainly had a hard time of it. He went out yatching one day and his boat got stuck in the mud; he went out again, and Emperor William met him and preached a sermon.

Mr. Clark Howell, of Atlanta, walked right into Mr. Hoke Smith's official sanctum recently, and shook hands with his excellency. Doubtless, he regretted as firmly convinced as ever, however, that he would look much handsomer in the easy chair than the present Governor of Georgia.

The Bishop of London will return to his native land with pleasant and grateful memories of American hospitality. No visitor was ever more graciously or generously entertained. We are quite sure that he does not agree with Mr. Barr that Virginians are ignorant of the ordinary rules of polite society.

Mr. Webster was always eloquent, but never more so than when from the Southern portico of Virginia's capitol he paid the noble tribute to Virginia October 4th, and those of us who have been looking in its beams of late can appreciate what a thrilling theme he had. In these days "every perfect pleasure and only man is vile."

It is rather wonderful that the world of finance should fear and tremble whenever Mr. Roosevelt starts out on a speaking tour. Why should the words of a mere man disturb the moneyed conditions of a great nation? He can make no law and our law-makers ought to be too wise to follow strenuous leadership or adopt foolish suggestions. Our people should pay strict attention to business and turn deaf ears to Wall street and the wails of other men.

The cocktail business knocked Mr. Fairbanks' aspirations as a lay delegate to the conference of his church into a "cocked hat." The temperance spirit is abroad in the land and the time seems to be approaching when wine bibbers need hope for recognition in church or State. There was a period in the history of the country when political speakers were furnished with pitchers of toddy when addressing the "dear people." The wind mills must depend on water in these latter days.

"Credit currency" is the last suggestion of the American bankers in convention assembled and it reminds us of what the great railroad president, J. J. Aill said. "I don't care a snap for cash, what I want is credit," and he knew that railroads are not built on cash or wars fought, or cities founded, or Carnegie fortunes made or new temples dedicated to the worship of Almighty God erected. The world is in debt and but for it the hands on the dial of progress would be turned back a hundred years.

"Chaotic."

That's the latest description of conditions prevailing among the magnates of the Jamestown exposition and those of us outside are utterly shocked to know this much is really true. By common consent the exposition itself is now on good footing and to menace its future by reason of a social storm among those in command is altogether too bad, without excuse. Get together gentlemen; quit your foolishness and unite as one man to save this great show from disaster and Virginia itself from disgrace in the eyes of the outside world. We are not of those who for a moment believe that Mr. Barr is the one man to command those forces. There are legions of Virginians who are equal to every demand of the exposition, business and social. It is an egregious mistake to think that Virginians do not know how to entertain strangers, to dispense hospitalities, to be polite to folks. Col. Taylor, of Norfolk, would make an ideal commander in chief, and so would Alexander Hamilton of Petersburg, T. M. Carrington, of Richmond, N. C. Manson, of Lynchburg, J. Hoge Tyler, of Radford, Rufus Ayres, of Big Stone Gap, Erskin Miller, of Staunton, E. S. Reid, of Chatham, J. O. Roler, of Harrisonburg, but why continue the list. "The woods are full of them." Invite some fit man to the front and let the show go to splendid consumation. We are all sick of the social strife. "Let us have peace."

Notice.

The Hon. John Lamb, Congressfrom the Richmond district will address the citizens of Buckingham county on the 15th day of October, the first day of the court, at the court house.

Harvey-Moss.

At Red Oak church yesterday, Miss Anna Bell Moss was married to Mr. William Harvey, in the presence of a large crowd of the friends of the happy pair. Rev. H. T. Allison performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated and fall colors predominated—yellow and green.

Miss Jennie Moss, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Mr. Let Harvey was best man.

The couples attending the bride and groom were, Miss Elizabeth Martin with Parke Jennings; Miss Nellie Hubard with Ragland Featherstone; Miss May Atkinson with Cary Abbitt; Miss Mary Abbitt with Galvin Moss; Miss Edna Burger with Kinkle Martin; Miss Grace Taylor with Crawford Davidson.

The flower girls were Misses Mary Harvey and Nellie Moore.

A luncheon was served the bridal party at the home of the bride. They took the evening train then for Jamestown and will be at home to their friends at to home of the groom after this week.

A Mineral Water that Defies Drugs
NATURE'S GREAT BLOOD TONIC
The recent drug exposures in this Country have proven to all that deadly poisons and stimulants lurk in many Patent Medicines. You never know when you might be taking some of that class.
Nature has made ample provision for restoring vigor and vitality to humanity, and the public, as well as doctors, resort to Natural Remedies, when all others have failed.
Are you troubled with Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Malaria, Kidney or Bladder Trouble, Chronic Diarrhoea or Dysentery, and above all, that dreadful disease Scrofula, which has almost baffled human skill, or Diseases peculiar to Females?
Piedmont-Bedford Concentrated Iron & Alum Water
Is Nature's Remedy for Nature's Ills. Yes, when you consider that disease comes from impoverished or run down conditions of the system, this Natural Mineral Water furnishes the system what it needs.
The analysis of this Water, shown on the bottle, tells you what Nature thinks you should take when sick, and the doctor who reads it will agree.
Do you think the grouping together in this Water of 17 different minerals, which are recognized by medical writers as most powerful blood tonics, could have been accidental? Reason answers, NO!
An 18-oz bottle of Piedmont-Bedford Concentrated Iron and Alum water contains all the minerals of 25 gallons of the average natural water—Then why buy a barrel of water when you can get a bottle of minerals at the trivial cost of one dollar. The dose is a teaspoonful in a glass of your own spring water.
How this Water acts upon the system is not clearly known. It is judged mainly by its works. It has cured all the diseases numerated above, and many more, evidently through its action as a powerful BLOOD TONIC.
We have many valuable certificates, which we will be glad to mail, if you are interested.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker the cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases.
